IT'S THE PROFIT THAT COUNTS

FOUR months ago we printed ten thousand booklets for the Falcon Shoe Company. Yes; we wrote the copy, selected the stock and made the layout. In fact, our Service Department attended to every detail. The complete cost of the booklets, including mailing, was less than three hundred dollars. But that isn't the point. Those booklets have sold forty-five thousand dollars' worth of shoes. Isn't that profitable?

A NARRATIVE OF CLOISTER OLDSTYLE, CLOISTER ITALIC AND CLOISTER TITLE WHICH SHOWS MODERN IDEAS IN TYPEFOUNDING AS A GREAT ASSISTANCE TO PRINTERS

THE Cloister Oldstyle, cast in sizes ranging from six point to seventy-two point, was designed along lines similar to the type designed and cast in Venice by Nicolas Jenson and first used by him in the Eusebius of 1470. Jenson produced the finest books of the first half century of printing, and the most competent authorities agree that his Roman types never have been surpassed in their beauty. Cloister Oldstyle is cast on the script line, to accommodate the long descenders, and as the shoulders of the caps on the script line prevent desirable close setting where caps only are used, we offer a series of Cloister Title in which the caps, from six point to forty-eight point, have the least possible amount of shoulder. The Cloister Italic, from six point to seventy-two point, is a real novelty, inasmuch as it is entirely unlike any other existing italic face. In Jenson's time there were no italic types. Italic types were first introduced by Aldus of Venice in 1491. No italic types were made in the first century of printing that would harmonize with Jenson's Roman types. However, following the shapes of the earlier sixteenth century italics of Aldus of Venice, and also of Bonhomme and Rovilli of Lyons, the resulting design harmonizes beautifully with the Cloister Oldstyle, and is the most striking and pleasing italic offered to the printers. Nicolas Jenson was born in France in 1420. He served as apprentice in the mint in Paris as an engraver of dies, and in 1458, while master of the mint in Tours, he was sent by the king to learn the secret of printing in Mainz, with a view to introducing the new art in France. He returned to France in 1461, but meanwhile another king was reigning, who apparently was not interested in printing, and the next we learn of Jenson is that he commenced printing in Venice in the year 1470, the second printer there. In his first year he produced four important editions, and more than one hundred and fifty during the remaining ten years of his life. He used Roman types of one design and one size until 1475, when he added two sizes of beautiful text folios. His books are either quarto or folio, and their characteristics are simplicity with correct proportions, beautiful types, classic margins and faultless composition. When he died, in 1480, his will showed that he was endowed with wealth—one of the richest men of an affluent city in which so many printers seemed to have attained to opulence. His types and plant were purchased by Andrea de Torresani de Asola, who continued the business. Andrea de Torresani had a scholarly apprentice or assistant who married his daughter, and succeeded to the business in 1488. This was Aldus Manutius, the printer, who afterward made his press more valuable to the world than any other by

Just This Minute

If we're thoughtful, just this minute,
In whate'er we say and do;
If we put a purpose in it
That is honest thro' and thro'
We shall gladden life and give it
Grace to make it all sublime;
For, though life is long, we live it
Just a minute at a time.

Just this minute we are going
Toward right or toward wrong;
Just this minute we are sowing
Seeds of sorrow or of song.
Just this minute we are thinking
On the ways that lead to God,
Or in idle dreams are sinking
To the level of the clod.

Yesterday is gone; to-morrow
Never comes within our grasp;
Just this minute's joy or sorrow,
That is all our hands may clasp.
Just this minute! Let us take it
As a pearl of precious price,
And with high endeavor make it
Fit to shine in paradise.

UNIQUE PROCESS OF WOOD ENGRAVING
In former days, wood engraving was done on boxwood because of its close-grained, smooth texture. In recent times the wood has to be cut across the grain, the transverse surface being used. Boxwood trees seldom yield a single block fit for a fine engraving surface larger than three square inches, so a full-page magazine cut has to be engraved on a block of several pieces $1234567890

THE two leading families in Verona were the noble Capulets and the Montagues. There had been a very old quarrel between these families, which was grown to such a height and so deadly was the enmity between them, that it extended to the remotest kindred and to followers and retainers of both sides, insomuch that a servant of the house of Montague could not meet a servant of the house of Capulet, nor a Capulet come in contact with a Montague by chance, but fierce words and oftentimes bloodshed ensued; and very frequent were the brawls from such accidental meetings which disturbed the happy quiet in the streets of Verona. Lord Capulet made a great supper, to many fair ladies and many noble guests

SHOULD BE THE SLOGAN OF EVERY
REAL PRINTER

To obtain Quality in Printing it is most essential that the typographer be familiar with the work of the great printers, so as to establish a basis of standard. Printing as a trade, with all its rush and bustle, its wonderful mechanical equipments, is apt to give too little thought to printing as a handicraft, to the spirit of craftsmanship which would breathe life and beauty into the output of dead and deadening tools. One of the main features helping towards Quality in Printing is perfectly made type

THE POINT OF EMBELLISHING TYPOGRAPHICAL DESIGNS SHOULD RECEIVE EARNEST THOUGHT

WHEN decoration is applied unwisely it is a menace to correct typography. Intelligently applied, it will greatly enhance the appearance of and add interest to the design, the full value of which can hardly be estimated. More designs by far fail of effectiveness because of being overdecorated than by being unadorned. While severity must be avoided, a plain design of type lines is preferable to one in which the decoration has been carried to the extreme where it subordinates the type matter. The message conveyed is the important thing, and anything which tends to weaken it should be decried. Inversely, any means of adding attractiveness, and thereby effectiveness, is most desirable. No particular rule can be laid down governing the extent of decoration. It is largely a dividual job, and the manner is taste and judgment should ornamentation than by words

CHANGING FORMS AFFECTING THE CORRECTIONS ON PROOFS

TO proofreaders it is urgently and seriously recommended that they apply their utmost endeavor to the following of copy exactly, never making any change except in case of something so plainly in error that correction is unmistakably needed. Only those mistakes should be corrected which are evident accidental errors in grammar. Caution should be exercised to avoid instances where it is possible for the author to persist, even though you are sure he is wrong. The books of to-day, in details of style, show considerable change from the usages of long ago, but in the matter of variance one from another our authors are as far apart as ever. And it is because of the many differences, and mainly because of the apparent impossibility of reducing their number, that the time-worn slogan

INTERESTING DISCOVERIES IN REFERENCE TO OUR ALPHABET

NEW and pleasing as the origins of our alphabet are in all their details, they are not any more fascinating than the different incidents by which these results have been gained: the patient working out of the meaning of rock inscriptions, the significance of which had altogether perished from the earth, with the following opening up of enormous vistas of human achievement through centuries, and the restoration to man's knowledge of vast civilizations whose existence he had merely surmised and then only in displaced sections. The Egyptian hieroglyphics served to record the civilization which arose thousands of years ago in the Nile Valley during the full period from the first dynasty down into the time of imperial Rome. Doings of humanity for protracted epochs were inscribed on stones imperishable under the rainless sky that all who saw might

ABSOLUTE CLEANLINESS OF PRESSES ESSENTIAL
When attempting to match the engraver's progressive proofs on process color-work, extreme precautions must be taken to insure absolute cleanliness of press and rollers. Separate rollers should be used for yellow or red exclusively, as the rollers used for black or blue inks might be stained, especially on the ends near rolling surface. Extra wash-ups are needed for best results $1234567890

Brief, Logical Thoughts about the Daily Problems of Our Life

MEN who have something the world wants, and are willing to work hard to get results, are the ones who will always hold the winning hands. After grasping success, many a man has become lazy, letting things drift and drift, until the shutters had to be posted. Reaching the top is only half the battle; the hard work that got you there must be continued day by day to keep you there in equilibrium.

HERE you will find an institution efficient and up-to-date, and yet it cherishes old-fashioned ideals of developing the boy's character by means of wholesome exercise and study. The long autumn and spring will invite him to golf and tennis, football and baseball. Expert coaches point the way which encourages competition with comrades of his own weight.

Perfect sanitation, fine food and a modern building, with a separate room for each boy, insure both his comfort and health. The boys at Roan are taught in small classes, with well supervised study, under trained men. Roan Institute specializes in the preparation

SOME INTERESTING COMMENTS INTENDED FOR ADVERTISERS DESIRING THE MAXIMUM IMPRESSION IN THE MINIMUM SPACE

THE most important essential for successful advertising copy is concentration. This doesn't mean expressing your ideas in the fewest number of words, a conclusion to which a cub reporter invariably leaps. It means getting your ideas into the head of your reader to stay there, and wasting no words in the process. The question hardly concerns the number of words. Rather it has to do with the considerations of thought, the boiling down to essentials, the maximum impression in the minimum space. It is the old question of quality. Brevity is of no value unless one has gained force. One doesn't gain force through brevity alone, as it usually happens. If you will read the really good writing of the best copy men, you will find that it runs long rather than short. The principal thing

WHY PRINTERS SHOULD GIVE THOROUGH STUDY TO THE ADVERTISING PROFESSION

THE GROWTH OF PRINTING in the last two decades has been due almost entirely to the recognition by the business world of the economy of printed advertising. Not until recently were many manufacturers and other business men convinced that they could market their products more cheaply and effectively through printed advertising than by personal salesmanship. To convince them of this fact required a considerable amount of effort. It was no easy task to prove to the average manufacturer that he would benefit materially by extolling through magazines and newspapers, as well as by catalogues and booklets, the merits of whatever he had to sell. Only by the unremitting labor of advertising agencies and newspaper and magazine solicitors for advertising was it possible to bring about the enormous annual expenditure now made for advertising purposes. Since printers have taken but small part in this educational campaign, so aggressively waged by the advertising agencies and newspapers and magazines, they have received only indirect benefit in the form of a larger volume of business, but usually at reduced prices. Because, as they truthfully say, they created much of this printing, the advertising agencies rightfully claim the larger share of the profits, not hesitating to insist that the printer, the engraver and the binder quote them prices much more favorable than those given to other customers. The amount of printing, such as booklets, catalogues and folders, handled by advertising agencies is constantly increasing. More and more the advertising agency is stepping between

MANY ASPECTS OF ADVERTISING WHICH REQUIRE THE MOST INDUSTRIOUS STUDY IN ORDER TO SECURE MAXIMUM RESULTS

THE OBJECT OF ADVERTISING is entirely legitimate if a person has a commodity to sell to another person. They are foolish who pretend to dislike this method of publicity. Even physicians, whose odd code of ethics forbids formally inviting custom, welcome newspaper notoriety when it redounds to their credit. Never in the history of the world has the importance of getting buyer and seller together been more appreciated than at the present time. Never before have such immense sums been spent in systematically parading all kinds of subtle temptations to elicit purchases. Advertising has become a legitimate business, and capable writers and designers of attractive advertisements receive the salaries of governors or mayors, and if called upon as consulting experts, receive fees as specialists, or retainers which a corporation lawyer with envy. Magazines devoted exclusively to advertising and art have been enlisted for attracting the attention of the public. In the aggregate to large sums of money offered to kindle the ambition of the advertiser, the result has been that there has been an amount of ability enlisted in displaying in graceful and effective forms of type for the benefit of every kind of business. This profession on the whole is in its "stone age." Advertisers sending the traveler to buy the article thrust as it were into his face, will never to use them. Enormous corners or along vacant city lots

THE HUNTERDEN LODGE WELCOMES FOLLOWERS OF OUTDOOR PASTIMES

NO SEASON delights the sportsman or the lover of the open fields so much as those wonderful days of late September and early October. In fact, it is becoming the custom of many active workers to defer their vacations so that the greatest benefits may be gained from a recreation period, the hours of which are somewhat limited. After the custom of the past three years, the Hunterden Lodge on September first will open its Autumn season, and the patronage of all those who appreciate the value and beauty of Fall days in the hills is respectfully solicited. Although this famous camp is near the edge of a virtually unbroken wilderness, tennis, baseball, trap shooting and other sports may be enjoyed. The Hunterden golf links are unsurpassed north of the forty-eighth parallel. The camp accommodates over three hundred, and every convenience has been installed. Everything is arranged with a view to satisfying our guests. Our rates by the day, week, month or season, singly or en famille, are reasonable, and are consistent with the service

THE ART OF PRINTING TAUGHT TO STUDENTS
Printing is the vehicle of business, of national activities, and of individual affairs; it brings the students into closer touch with the world of commerce; it gives familiarity with social, business and legal forms; it is especially valuable as an aid in the teaching of English grammar and rhetoric; it develops the ethical taste and $1234567890 constructive imagination

initial should line up with last type line alongside

EQUAL MARGIN SIDE AND BOTTOM
Not only should the space alongside and under an initial be uniform, but thought is also to be given to the size of the type used and to the depth of the page, these considerations determining to a certain extent the amount of space between initial and text

14 A $0 35

INITIALS AND TEXT TO BE HARMONIOUS
The harmony and tone between the initial and body matter should be maintained, so that a fairly uniform color may be given to the page; and while slight variations may at times be permitted, the ambitious printer will strive to the utmost for this uniformity so that initial will not be too prominent

11 Point

18 A $1 20 52 a $1 55 $2 75
12 A $0 40

MANUSCRIPTS WITH INITIAL LETTERS
The ornamental letters have been used for hundreds to where the text matter begins and for illuminating

22 A $0 80 65 a $1 20 $2 00
15 A $0 35

APPROPRIATENESS IS IN EVERY CASE ESSENTIAL
While in most other respects there may occasionally be a slight deviation from general usages, in the matter of appropriateness of the initial to the subject treated there should always be shown good judgment in selection. A Missal Initial for instance ought not be combined with the modern roman body type $1234567890

EXPERIENCED PRINTERS REJOICE
Those compositors who have spent several years at the case are quick to appreciate the advantages that a particular type face possesses, and will take every opportunity presented to use that type. This accounts to a great extent for the favor accorded the Caslons

8 Point

18 A $1 00 55 a $1 25 $2 25

PROPER POSITION OF MATTER
Care should also be exercised that the lines or groups of type are so placed on the page as to make the relation of one to the other as pleasing to the eye as possible. This means that attention must be given to the area and dimensions of the various groups of matter

CONSISTENCY INSURES ECONOMY
Aside from the satisfactory appearance which a piece of composition that is set in accordance with the principles of simplicity conveys, there is a distinct saving in energy and money that must not be overlooked by the printer. The type arrangement which is free from any intricacy and therefore easy to comprehend, represents a saving in time for composition, consequently a lower hour cost to the employer $1234567800

COTTON ALLOWED TO NEUTRAL LANDS

Persia Explains That Her Contraband Order Has Been Misunderstood

PUTS LIMIT ON THE SIZE OF SHIPMENTS

Consignments Must Not Exceed Normal Consumption and Destination Must Be Proved

Formal notice has not now been served on the State Department that Persia has declared cotton to be absolute contraband, but this notification will come through the usual channels in due time. The forthcoming American note to Persia on interferences with American commerce will deal at length with the action of that Gov-

CONCERNING EFFICIENCY AND PROFIT
The maximum efficiency of this day will be below par ten years hence. That which was a maximum ten years ago is below par of efficiency to-day. Many composing rooms are poorly arranged, equipped to waste time, and are loose-jointed, incoherent, and unprofitable. Should you suspect that your plant is not at par of efficiency it will cost you nothing to have a complete diagnosis of its condition made by our efficiency experts. Since the introduction of these machines to the printing and binding interests, thousands in the various styles have been sold, and to-day, because of their general excellence, they are undoubtedly the most satisfactory wire stitching machines upon the market. MANY RECOMMEND HARMONIOUS DESIGN
In these progressive days it is not difficult to select a type style which closely resembles the more common-sense class of hand lettering and one that answers the purpose fully and is much more economical. Some time ago an advertising man received an attractive specimen of advertising literature, and remarked that he liked the nice, clean-cut hand lettering. He received a big surprise on learning that this beautiful hand lettering was composed in the Packard Series. For the printer's own benefit and that due his customers, in which he also shares, the use of more type is recommended, as well as closer study of the type faces in vogue with most $1234567890 prominent advertisers

The Packard Series

FOR HAND-LETTERED EFFECTS
IN COMMERCIAL AND FINE ART PRINTING

THE Packard type design is strong, yet graceful. It is bold, and still has just a tiny touch of whimsicality. Packard is different without being flamboyant. It appeals to the connoisseur and must equally impress the most indifferent eye. The Packard has the restraint of true art. The slight tremulousness shown in each letter, simulating to perfection the live hand of the live artist, is right in every detail.

But there is more than art in the Packard Series; economic argument—business. Of other types it the are beautiful, strong and graceful. All this is said of the Packard in addition to its distinct economy. The cost of hand-lettering can be saved by its use. The printer's profit is often doubled or tripled.

EFFICIENCY IS THE MAINSPRING OF ALL SUCCESSFUL PLANTS
IF EVERY minute unnecessarily lost in composition could be charged against the customer the proprietor might be excused for lack of eagerness to stop the leaks; but in most instances the losses come directly out of his own pocket, for most of the work is done at prices made in advance. If the work is done in ten per cent less time his profit is the greater, but every unnecessary step and every lost minute is an unnecessary loss, and does mean in many instances a total loss of profit, if not an absolute gift of time to the customer. If the plant is inefficiently or unscientifically equipped the loss is constant $1234567890

TABLE LINEN

FOR RECEPTIONS AND GENERAL FESTAL OCCASIONS

EVERY housewife knows the importance of having one or two extra fine table cloths to be used on a special occasion when it is desired to have the home appear at its very best. Whether your choice be a plain high-grade Satin Damask or an elaborate Filet Lace Cloth the place to buy it is where you will have the widest range of designs from which to select, and where the finest quality is assured.

H·A·C
HIGH-GRADE
TABLE LINEN

Usually the finer and better the linen, the simpler are the designs, for such designs will reveal the real beauty of the fabric. It is no doubt due to this fact that perfectly plain cloths with no ornamentation except a satin band are now so much in favor. Others of this class have various smart stripe designs and simple borders. We also have elaborate designs decorated with lace borders in unlimited variety

A THRILLING ROMANCE ABOARD A HOUSE-BOAT

By FRANK W. SMITH

JUST as the sun had come up over the horizon, welcomed as usual by many hundred different shades of yellow, the sky looked as though an enormous orange had been burst over it. Behind the house-boat the wide Ciscaya Bay was alive with myriads of gulls and pelicans busy with their morning toilets as they stood on the innumerable small islands of sand which were not yet covered by the incoming tide. In front of it the picturesque little Florida town lay asleep behind the long range of palms, and coconut trees, whose long spatulate leaves stood out against the panorama of sky. Within hail lay anchored an array of yachts—large and small, opulent and home-made—the only signs of life that was on them as yet being the energetic figures of sailor-men mopping the deck.

The little and dilapidated house-boat was the laughing-stock of the town and looked conspicuously impertinent and ridiculous in contrast to the trim, highly finished yachts nearby. It had already begun the day, and the penniless owner Tommy Havaland, artist and dreamer, was putting a coat of paint on the new maple boards of the galley in the stern. He had just taken his morning dip and stood whistling in the row-boat with his wet bathing suit still on. Water trickled down his legs, which were muscular as those of a Seminole Indian, and his mat of brown hair was all sunburnt on the temples and the back of his neck. Every now and then Nellie, equally as brown, equally happy and simple, and dressed

AMERICAN CUT-COST EQUIPMENTS

AMERICAN CUT-COST EQUIPMENTS FOR PRINTERS

IF the majority of composing rooms delivered maximum profits, our Efficiency Department would not be needed. Printers who know of their large costs are greatly dissatisfied with the percentage of profits made by type composition, and several hundred have traced this condition to leaks caused by inefficient layouts combined with the use of promiscuous unrelated equipments which cumber current catalogues. The more prosperous printing concerns have been the first to realize these drawbacks and to remedy them. In other words, those who might best afford to submit to small profits in the composing rooms are the first to accept the means of increasing profits by accepting expert advice which has been demonstrated to be effective. Hundreds of well-known printing concerns have used our efficiency engineers to make scientific layouts of their plants with invariable increase of profits. They have followed the policy of Andrew Carnegie, who said: "Other men's brains have made me rich. 'Tis said I have more courage than some. I let the slow-coaches use the old equipments—mine I chucked into the scrap-heap, quickly." Inefficiency is the thief of profits. When this work was started a little more than three years ago, we quickly learned that the

THE TRAGIC STORY OF A PRACTICAL WOMAN

By RANDOLPH BEACH

ELISE was a practical woman, although John Carlton Dick's sister. Long before she was old enough to understand the very rudiments of motherhood she had mothered and brought up a large family of clamorous children and looked after the lonely father whose quiver was full, but whose much-loved wife lay in the little churchyard under a bank of flowers. Practical as her experience had made her, Mrs. Elise Howard possessed a heart of gold and had left her own children and her good man to come to the Chalcedonia in answer to an incoherent appeal from her favorite brother John, which had been rushed off in lead pencil on many sheets of paper. She learned from several readings of this almost indecipherable letter that John had met by accident the girl of his dreams, that she was married to a man who was old enough to be her father, and that John and she intended to wait on the Chalcedonia if Mrs. Howard would come and live on it with them until Jack Wood realized that his home, his children and himself meant less than nothing to his so-called wife, when, according to their strange and very childish way of thinking, he would come and set her free. For about a month Mrs. Howard had been living in that green country home while her own husband and children in a suburb of Iowa waited impatiently for her return. She had watched with wonder, amazement and a

THE BEGINNING OF SUSPICION

CHAPTER III

HARRY was fond of exhibiting to his young friends this treasure to which he always returned the more enamoured for his vagary and its opportunity of comparison. Only women he would not permit. In general, he held that all women, without exception, put evil in each other's heads and helped each other on to carry out the mischief already there in embryo. Also in particular, he would have felt that he was committing a gross breach of the proprieties, not to say the decencies, had he introduced a woman of Susan's origin and history, to the wives and sisters of his friends; and her, for reasons which it was not necessary even to pretend to conceal, he absolutely forbade having anything at all to do with the kinds of women who would not have minded had they known all about her. Thus, her only acquaintances, her only associates, were all certain carefully selected men. He asked to dinner or to the theatre or to supper, only such men as he could trust. And trustworthy meant physically unattractive. Having small and dwindling belief in the mentality of all women, and no belief whatever in mentality as a force in the relations of the sexes, he was satisfied to have about her any man, however clever, provided that he was absolutely devoid of physical charm.

The friend who came oftenest was Billy Dawis, a gifted playwright, who had been his chum at college and had got him many proofs of true friendship. Dawis, he would have trusted alone with her on a desert island

REPLACEMENT of the photo-litho transfers by prints on the zinc direct improved the quality of etchings to a degree where magazines were ready to give them place; and the discovery of the four-way powdering method reduced the length of the etching process as well as the amount of skill available for the daily press. Tastes differ, and what one admires in a design, represent perfection from an artistic standpoint in so far as influencing opinion in favor of the firm making of sales. Good printing alone will not sell goods, and although it will no doubt create a favorable impression it is not enough. MANY concerns have wanted to present their products to the public by means of illustrations, but have been unable to adduced in favor of the idea that nothing is lacking of perfection. Credit is given to those who do so. Everybody recognizes that it is not possible to get an effective representation by the use of black-and-white photographs. It is necessary to use color, and the average way of doing this is to turn the black-and-white print over to an artist, who tries to embellish the photograph by painting in various details and effects and putting the color on by hand. Seven Passenger Car

The trim, clean, compactly designed six-cylinder motor accelerates from a walking pace to fifty-five miles in an hour. This motor wins you by its power and flexibility as it does by its fine smoothness, even at highest speed. It excites admiration and genuine appreciation of six-cylinder qualities. As to the body: it is a beauty with the so much favored tonneau cowl, flush doors and deep upholstery. It is the perfection of finish as well as the roominess of this fine car that makes it second to none. We emphasize the ease of riding. This has been our motto, and is intensified in this splendid, new model

As an art, printing is doubtless inferior to painting or sculpture, but the latter arts are only exact evidences of civilization, while printing is the real Creator of Civilization

Typotabular Gothics

These Gothic letters have been selected as representing the faces used on card index and blank form work, and are cast on em body, en body, and 3/4 em body, with a few exceptions, as noted. As will be appreciated by every printer, it is not possible to obtain first-class typographical results with letters cast on a uniform set, but the saving of time is so great that in many cases—and especially on low-priced blanks—it is price and not typographical excellence that secures the order.

The ruled portion of form is set in Typotabular Squares (pamphlet explaining use of same sent on request), including the box headings. Typotabular Gothics are then composed for the headings and the requisite number of "Squares" removed from the box heading, and the type inserted. Quite frequently no justification is necessary, and, at most, a space or two will exactly justify the line. These spaces are furnished with the font, and are high, so as to be easily removed. If one-point down rules are used, a one-point brass lead is inserted in the box to justify it with the column below. The rule beneath the box—to get the wax effect—should be one point longer than the width of the column, or two points longer if two-point down rules are used.

Small fonts of Boxhead Rule are furnished for this purpose, including a small case, prices of which will be sent on application.

Here is a series that appears to be a script, yet it is not exactly a script, for the letters are cast in a regular straight body and there are no kerns or overhanging characters; the letters do not join as in the script type, and there are no hair-lines. Adscript is cast point set and the capitals and lower case of various sizes can be used together, a thing not practicable when using regular script faces.

Confidential Chatter

OVERHEARD AT THE LITTLE INN AROUND THE CORNER
WHERE ALL GOOD PRINTERS MINGLE

“SAY, Bob; there was a silver-tongued orator in the shop to-day trying to sell the Boss one of those machines that make type while you wait. He said, ‘Why, it is just as simple as a wart on a pickle. All you have to do is merely to press the button and pull the lever, and the type rolls out like coal down the scuttle.’ Well, the Boss gave him one of those fade-away smiles and said: ‘Young fellow, I bought one of those infernal machines last year. There it is over in the corner. It makes type all right, but who in the name of thunder would print anything with that kind of type?’”

4 POINT FRANKLIN GOTHIC

THERE IS A PROFITABLE FIELD FOR PRINTERS WHO WOULD CARE TO INSTALL STAMPING AND ENGRAVING DEPARTMENTS FOR PRODUCING FINE SOCIAL AND COMMERCIAL WORK That an engraving department would be of advantage to the average well-organized printing office is demonstrated by the fact that many of the larger concerns are now conducting such ventures with admirable results. While the type-printing industry continues to expand and grow remarkably in every section of the country, the engraving and plate-printing business is also increasing wonderfully. On every side there is a greater demand for various specialties of both social and commercial engraving. The public in general has come to appreciate the excellent qualities of engraved printing. The printer who has an engraving department is in a position to create a lot of new business in the plate-printing and embossing lines. He can do this without lessening the volume of his letterpress business in the least. For instance, he suggests to certain customers that an engraved announcement would be a powerful advertisement for some special sale, or some similar occasion. In a like manner he suggests that engraved business cards would express the high character of a "polite" business better than would plainly printed ones. It would seem that smaller-town printers could install plate-printing and stamping departments under admirable conditions. The business is there for them, but of course it would need developing. In the beginning of the venture the printer could have his plates and dies made by the engravers of the larger cities, later on engaging an expert to do the engraving at the plant as the business grew. Without question there are many printers who could have an engraving department added to their regular printing business with excellent results. The typographical and engraving businesses belong together.

American Specimen Book of Type Styles (1912)

AMERICAN TYPE FOUNDERS COMPANY

DESIGNER AND MAKER OF THE LEADING FACES IN TYPEWRITER TYPE

TO MODERN PRINTERS:

By every test which can be made the type of the American Type Founders Company is conceded by those who have a knowledge of true values to be the best in quality and accuracy of production, besides having the highest and most important advantages in point of style. In this day, when the leading and ambitious printers are giving their closest and keenest attention to practical methods of efficiency, it would seem suicidal, from a business point of view, for anyone engaged in the art preservative to consider the purchase of any type but the best.

TO THE WIDE-AWAKE PRINTER:

If you have no time to advertise your business you are not getting out of it all it holds in store for you. Therefore, study your advertising problems. There is no need to plunge. Go at it gently, thoughtfully, but above all persistently. Perhaps it will be better to hire some one to help you. You did not disdain the help of a sign painter who advertised you with the sign he painted. Perhaps you are a printer rather than an advertiser. If so, hire some of the time of an advertiser who is able to convince the business people in your community that they are neglecting profits by neglecting to use your printing facilities.

CUT-COST FRACTIONS No. 1

6 Point, per font . . . $2 25
8 Point, per font . . . 2 75

Cut-Cost Fractions No. 1 are so made that two en-set fractions can be placed together to make fractions in 16ths, 32ds and 64ths.

Thus: $\frac{1}{8}$ and $\frac{1}{8}$ placed together make $\frac{1}{4}$

The following commonly used characters are furnished:

$\frac{1}{8}$ $\frac{1}{16}$ $\frac{1}{32}$ $\frac{1}{64}$ $\frac{1}{4}$ $\frac{1}{2}$ $\frac{3}{4}$ $\frac{5}{8}$ $\frac{3}{8}$ $\frac{5}{16}$ $\frac{7}{8}$ $\frac{15}{16}$

Special characters used for 16ths, 32ds and 64ths are:

Numerators: 1 2 3 4

Denominators: 16 32 64

Making $\frac{1}{16}$ $\frac{1}{32}$ $\frac{1}{64}$ $\frac{1}{8}$ $\frac{1}{4}$ $\frac{1}{2}$ $\frac{3}{4}$ $\frac{5}{8}$ $\frac{3}{8}$ $\frac{5}{16}$ $\frac{7}{8}$ $\frac{15}{16}$

The following characters on en-set are used together to make 16th, 32ds and 64ths when numerator is 11 or larger:

For 16ths:

Combine $\frac{1}{16}$ with $\frac{1}{16}$ $\frac{2}{16}$ $\frac{3}{16}$ for $\frac{1}{4}$ $\frac{3}{16}$ $\frac{5}{16}$

For 32ds:

Combine $\frac{1}{32}$ with $\frac{1}{32}$ $\frac{2}{32}$ $\frac{3}{32}$ $\frac{4}{32}$ to make $\frac{1}{16}$ $\frac{1}{8}$ $\frac{3}{16}$ $\frac{1}{4}$

Combine $\frac{1}{32}$ with $\frac{5}{32}$ $\frac{6}{32}$ $\frac{7}{32}$ to make $\frac{5}{16}$ $\frac{3}{8}$ $\frac{7}{16}$

Combine $\frac{1}{32}$ with $\frac{11}{32}$ to make $\frac{1}{4}$

For 64ths:

Combine $\frac{1}{64}$ with $\frac{1}{64}$ $\frac{2}{64}$ $\frac{3}{64}$ $\frac{4}{64}$ to make $\frac{1}{32}$ $\frac{1}{16}$ $\frac{1}{8}$ $\frac{1}{4}$

Combine $\frac{1}{64}$ with $\frac{5}{64}$ $\frac{6}{64}$ $\frac{7}{64}$ to make $\frac{5}{32}$ $\frac{3}{16}$ $\frac{7}{16}$

Combine $\frac{1}{64}$ with $\frac{11}{64}$ to make $\frac{1}{4}$

Combine $\frac{1}{64}$ and $\frac{1}{64}$ with $\frac{1}{64}$ $\frac{2}{64}$ $\frac{3}{64}$ to make the rest of the "odd" 64ths: $\frac{9}{64}$ to $\frac{15}{64}$ — $\frac{17}{64}$ to $\frac{31}{64}$

CUT-COST SMALL CAP CASE

Cut-Cost Small Cap Case, $\frac{1}{2}$ size with 42 compartments, three fit in blank case . . . \$0 60

The Cut-Cost Small Cap Case will hold both Fonts Nos. 1 and 2 containing characters for complete 64ths and 48ths. In laying the case for 64ths only, the compartments used for the denominators 12 24 and 48 and characters $\frac{1}{12}$ $\frac{1}{24}$ and $\frac{1}{48}$ will be empty, as these characters are used only for 48ths and are not included in Font No. 1 (64ths). There will be eleven empty compartments in the layout for 48ths only as the denominators 32 and 64 and characters $\frac{1}{32}$ $\frac{1}{64}$ $\frac{1}{8}$ $\frac{1}{4}$ $\frac{3}{4}$ $\frac{5}{8}$ are used only for 64ths and are not included in Font No. 2 (48ths).

Every printing office has constant use for the fractions: eighths, quarters, halves, and frequently for the sixteenths and sixty-fourths.

Note to the Compositor:
When the numerator is 11 or larger (for instance, $\frac{11}{8}$) read the copy up and down and pick out $\frac{1}{8}$ and $\frac{1}{8}$. After a little practice it will be natural to consider the fraction as two en-set type placed together. Fractions with a numerator 9 and smaller and a denominator 12 or larger (for instance, $\frac{9}{12}$) are easily composed by selecting the proper numerator and denominator.

METAL RULES

We can furnish many of our faces of brass rule made of metal instead of brass at one-half the prices charged for brass rule. Naturally, these metal rules do not wear as long as brass rules, but for special jobs where the run is not long these metal rules are generally satisfactory. This applies especially to bodies from 6 to 36 point and for faces of rule where the lines are not finer than one-half point.

The Typotabular Squares

PATENTED AUGUST 15, 1916

TO THE printing office doing either a large amount or a limited amount of blank ruled forms the Typotabular System should be of interest. This new invention simplifies, expedites and greatly reduces the cost of composition on tabular and blank work, besides giving a much improved appearance to the completed job. The saving is not alone in the cost of composition, but in the time required to "cast off" or calculate widths of columns in tabular, figure, or blank work, such as sales slips, vouchers, time slips, cost slips, blank-book headings, bill-heads, statements, and many other jobs of printing done in every composing room.

Typotabular Squares are cast on one-em six point body. They are absolutely uniform. The top of each square is shaped as a four-sided pyramid, and when they are assembled V-shaped channels are automatically formed, running at right angles, six points apart, into which rules may be inserted at any multiple of six points without effort and without prying apart squares.

The illustration at the right shows a form, 30x41 ems, composed from an area of "Squares" 36x54 ems, the unused portion being left locked on the galley. After the form is printed the job is brought back to the galley, the rules taken out and replaced in the case and the area of 36x54 ems is again intact, ready for the next job which will fall within that measure. Any size area of "Squares" can be used, another popular and usable size being 9x12 inches, which is composed on a 12x18 galley. The prime advantage in using Typotabular Squares is that blank forms are set without any composition other than selecting and inserting the rules, the blank spaces setting themselves automatically.

Typotabular Galley End Lock and Dividers for 3 fonts (36x81 ems)	95
Typotabular Galley End Lock and Dividers for 4 fonts (54x72 ems)	1 10

The Typotabular Galley End Lock is made to fit on the Pressed Steel or Brass Style, but can be adjusted to fit on most styles of All-Brass Gallies.

That the proper system for readily obtaining the various widths of "feints" or cross rules may be easily understood, we have prepared the accompanying diagram showing the method of using two point and four point side-bevel brass rule. While the side-bevel rules are not essential for the satisfactory use of Typotabular Squares, more combinations are possible with their use than with center-face rules.

The diagram beginning with 8 point shows graduation by 2 points, viz: 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 22 points, by use of 2 and 4 point side-face rules. If intermediate ruling is necessary, 7, 13, 19, 25, 31 points, etc., can be made with 1 point rule, and 9, 12, 15, 18, 21, 24, 27, 30, 33, etc., can be made with 3 point side-face rule.

A Practical Working Outfit

THE essential items for operating this system are few in number, viz: One or more fonts of Typotabular Squares, a font of Foot Slugs, galley and dividers of proper size with galley end lock and fonts of brass rule with plenty of short pieces. In developing this system, however, we found that no rule cases allowed sufficient space for short pieces. So the Tabular Rule Cases (listed on page 214) were designed to fill this need. Then naturally followed a Working Top to hold the cases and the galleys, the latter containing the "base" or "Squares" ready for use.

The Typotabular Working Top

There is no other cabinet or piece of printers' furniture on the market that is exactly adapted to the needs of the Typotabular Square System. The Typotabular Working Top can be set on any flat-top cabinet but is especially designed for the No. 62, full-size, standard height, New Departure Cabinet. To allow room in front of the bank for a 12x18 galley, the top is made to overhang the cabinet in front about five inches.

Showing the Typotabular Working Top placed on a Single Flat-Top Cabinet

This construction gives space on each shelf for a 10x16 and a 12x18 galley of the Pressed Brass or Pressed Steel style. Two 8³/₄x13 galleys can be placed in the compartment under the bank, which is hinged at the top, or this space can be used for additional quarter cases. With this Working Top everything needed for composing blank rule forms by the Typotabular Square System is within easy reach. The galleys, complete with galley locks, dividers and "Squares," are instantly available. When the form has been composed, the galley with the unused portion of "Squares" is returned to the shelf to be taken out again to receive back the "Squares" when the job has been run off. The rule is quickly removed and placed in the cases.

Four fit in a blank case

These cases have been designed to meet the need of ample room for the short lengths of rules. In numbers 10, 11, 12, 14 and 15, the compartments hold 20 pieces of 2-point rule, a convenient amount to pick up for insertion in a tabular form. They are especially desirable for setting blanks by the Typotabular Square System, as the small compartments enable the compositor to use 2 or 3 rows for Typotabular Metal Foot Slugs, 2 rows for 6-point slugs, 4 rows for 2-point rule, etc., changing the layout to suit the particular requirements. See page 110 for Typotabular Gothics, made on en and em body especially for tabular blank forms. The capacity of the cases indicated below is based on 2-point rule.

Ad-Man's Brass Rule Borders

These Ad-Man's Rule Borders are designed for newspaper advertisements. Measurements given are for the length over all, and all pieces are mitered at both ends. The usable assortment (cut to accurate newspaper sizes), with the low price, makes these Ad-Man's Rule Borders a valuable addition to every newspaper office.

These measures are based on a standard six-column paper using six-point column rule. If they are made for a seven- or an eight-column paper the sizes of half-page and full-page pieces should be made longer.

The customer should be particular to state the number (which is the style) of rule desired. He should also be very careful to state how he measures his ads. The sizes here given are all full measure. The six-inch ad, is a full-size border. If he charges for blank space top and bottom he should then deduct a pica from each size in length. If he charges for space at bottom only he should then deduct a nonpareil from each piece in length, excepting the half-page and full-page pieces.

The face of the column rule for a six-column paper measures (not in inches) 119 picas. Allowing a six-point slug under head rule makes it 118 $\frac{1}{2}$ picas for full-length border. The half pages are 58 $\frac{1}{2}$ picas—twice 58 $\frac{1}{2}$ is 117 (one and one-half picas shy). This is necessary to allow for a slug on each side of "cut-off" rule between ads.

The customer may suggest "my half-pages are ten inches," but if figured on that basis it would not be possible to work a half page and a quarter page on the same page, etc.

Full seven- and eight-column top and bottom pieces as well as full and half page seven- and eight-column lengths will be furnished upon request at price per piece as given in Table I plus the mitering charge.
